

Commitment to Honor

As an ethical community, the University of South Florida is dedicated to the ideals of excellence in scholarship, academic learning and student development. By joining this community, each member is expected to accept and live these commitments.

I resolve to maintain the honor and integrity of the university community in pursuit of scholarship, academic learning and student development.

I resolve to respect the dignity and intrinsic value of all persons.

I resolve to contribute to the progress and greater good of the community.

I resolve to strive for excellence and discovery for myself, others, and the University.
